More like this story Comments It's very mysterious and we don't even know what the tournament is for. It was a weird looking "shuriken" and I have a feeling it's where you use water weapons to kill something or something of that sort. I'm guessing it's like the ninja tools they taught us in the first movie. I don't think they're ninjas or shuriken. I think they're the summoning tournament they had in the first movie. This time the opponent is all these ladies who are naked. And they're trying to kill them by dousing them with the water weapon. There's a big "water tornado" at the end of the battle. This is just speculation, but I think they're being summoned into another dimension with the water. The water in the pool is purple, it's in the pool near the shuriken-thing. Me and my mom thought they were ninjas when we saw them on the train. I'm guessing they're ninjas, but I have a feeling they're just regular schoolgirls. I like the buxom characters more. I hope we get to see more of them, especially the one who had the scissor kick. That was cool! And I hope we get to see more of the good girl in this one. I also like the ladies in this one better. The older one had more personality. I didn't like the one from the first movie at all, and I only liked the new one's personality. This one has a lot of personality. I hope to see more of the characters we don't see a lot of in this one. There's more of them! There were like four more at the end. I saw this when I was little. I didn't like it. I wonder how the tournament is organized. I think the ninjas won, because when the girls came out from the pool, they were mostly dead. They just had this weird purple water there. I liked the first movie better, but I can't think of any reason why. I liked the first movie better. I think it's because of the ninjas. And the girls' personalities. I think the ninjas didn't do anything in the first movie. This one is better. I think it's better because of the ninjas 82157476af
